LOCAL AUTHOR JONATHAN WOOD OF RAYMOND is featured in a new collection of short stories released Saturday by SciArt Media of Temple. The anthology is entitled "Carved in Granite: Storytellers of New Hampshire," and the 15 stories (in a variety of genres) are all previously unpublished. Wood's stories "Purgatory" and "Stories from Ocean Grove" are quite different from one another. While "Ocean Grove" grew out of a series of e-mails with an old flame, "Purgatory," which Wood describes as a "darker" story, was inspired by thoughts of the afterlife and what it would be like to live there. The book is on sale online starting Saturday, July 19 at <http://carvedingranite.sciartmedia.com>. The collection will soon be available through large online retailers, as well as bookstores throughout the state.

"DEEP ECONOMY" AUTHOR BILL MCKIBBEN will speak on communities and climate change at
